Notes for Charles William Wright:

According to my grandmother (Opal Ailene Baker):

Parents came from Germany (his parents spoke only German). He spoke german fairly fluently. Supposedly Anna got in a fight with her mother in law (Charles' mom) and declared that no more german would be spoke in the house.

I, however, have been unable to find any evidence of this. From information gathered, both parents would have spoken English since several generations removed since immigration to America.

110. Nicholas Money Tunnell⁵³, born April 30, 1792 in Washington or Greene County, Tennessee⁵⁴; died Aft. 1865 in Bethel, Morgan County, Illinois⁵⁴. He was the son of 220. Rev. Stephen Tunnell, Sr. and 221. Keziah Money. He married 111. Sarah Gentry Abt. 1817 in Washington County, Tennessee⁵⁵.

111. Sarah Gentry⁵⁶, born WFT Est. 1779-1801⁵⁶; died WFT Est. 1822-1890⁵⁶.

Notes for Nicholas Money Tunnell:

From the Personal family account of Nicholas Money Tunnel:

Nickoles bought a 160 acher track of land in Morgan County, Illinois, just over the line from Greene County (today, on the road to Jacksonville, Ill. as you go from Richwood), where he settled and was one of the first settlers in Morgan County. His boys chopped logs to build them a house, and he and his boys built a two room house (two large rooms) of 20 foot logs – some of them were 3 ft wide – so my mother told me. Just two large rooms with a fier place in each room in the center of the room with large arches made of sod. When the house was all done but the flues, he went to Manchester to trade and there he met a very prettie woman, who was there with her brother-in-law and his wife. They were there trading.

So, also, was Nicholes Tunnel good at all his work. His mother was a partial invilid when he was a boy, so he helped her to do all her work in the house, and when she was not able to work, he even did all the house work. He also was a good farmer and fairly good carpenter and handy man, generaly.

Occupation: Farmer

Notes for Sarah Gentry:

From Personal family account of Nicholas Money Tunnel:

When these children were nearly all grown and about grown – some of them, the mother took the collery (which in those days was a very dangerous and fattel disease). The Cholera had broke out in Kentucky and became an epedemic in that place in which they lived. She never told them she had it but kept away from the rest of them by staying out of doors, until she was nearly dead before they knew she had it. They all went 5 miles to church. They all stayed for night services. On one Sunday morning, she bade the children good bye as they started off for Sunday School. She sat on the step shading her eyes with her hand and watched them as long as she could see them. Then, she made her way into the house and laid down upon the bed.

Nicholus went to ask her what was the matter and if she were sick. She said I have the cholera and am going to die, and requested that he put the best quilt around her and bury her, soon as she died, in a grave on their place and to burn flax, tar, and lime in the house, so none of the rest of them would take the dread disease. She died in a few minutes after she had told him. He went to get someone to help him to bury his wife but could get no one to come, as everyone was so afraid they would not go near. He then got his dead wife's brother to come and stand away off and hold a lantern (after they had dug the grave), while he wrapped her in the quilt, carried her to the grave, and placed her in it, and covered her up with dirt.

In those days, there were no churches where one could go to church and sit comfortably through meeting, and Sunday School. They did not live close together as in these days, and they had Sunday School and meeting in the homes, and they would walk or go a horse back or in wagons and some went behind an ox team, and they went 5 miles or more and stayed for night services. So, it happened that the children of Sarah (Gentry) Tunnel did not know that their Mother was dead and buried until they reached home, and their Father told them what had happened. He had burned flax and tar in the house and no one took the disease.

A neighbor had the cholera and she had gone to see him without them knowing she went. As she went to see her brother, on the way back – she went in to see him (the neighbor). Nicholas warned her not to stop there but she did, but never told any of them. The cholera spread in their neighborhood and became an epidemic, and grandfather (Nicholas) thought he would come to Illinois, as he heard it was a good farming country and that there was no cholera here. So he sold out and came to Illinois. They came in covered three covered wagons with their household goods - cows tied on behind – other stock and so forth and some a horseback.

Information in Ellis Cousins Newsletter, Winter 1990 page 5, and Ellis Cousins Newsletter, Winter 1992, Summer, 1992, Letter from Mrs. Ellis in Tennessee.

Ellis Cousins Newsletter, Winter 1992, Summer 1992, letter from Mrs. Ellis in Tennessee. From letter by W. M. Gersbacher to Mrs. DeMay: "We know that Mary Ellis was married to Alexander Davidson in Rutherford County, North Carolina in 1782 or 1783. Rachel Ellis was also married by 1787, because Mary Davidson, Alexander Davidson, Rachel Davidson and John Davidson were all on the membership roll of that date (1787) of the Sandy Run Baptist Church at Mooresboro, North Carolina. Sandy Run Creek is a tributary of the Broad River." From a scrapbook in the library at Glasgow, Kentucky: "Alexander Davidson's second wife was a widow, Mrs. Mary Jones with a daughter Rachel." From Barren County, Kentucky deed book L, Page 404: "An indenture between Mary Davidson & Sarah Holland (her daughter: Whereas Alexander Davidson (dec) late husband of Mary Davidson did by his will bequeath to Rachel Jones (daughter of said Mary Davidson) an equal portion of his estate with his own children, making her an heir by devise and the said Rachel Jones having departed this life intestate, the said Mary Davidson being the next of kin gave Rachel Jones portion to Sarah Holland. 15 April 1829."

This was information copied from the book Ellis and Related Family by Isaac Barnett Ellis, Pittsburg, Kansas.

More information from that book is "William Ellis, brother of Sarah his mother, was appointed guardian for Alexander II 30 October 1752 upon the death of his mother."

More information from that book shows that Alexander was apprenticed to a blacksmith. He lived on Broad River andj Sandy Creek of present day Cleveland County, North Carolina and then moved to Kentucky. Alexander's Will was presented August 1817, Glasgow, Barren County, Kentucky."

Notes for Rev. Stephen Tunnell, Sr.:

From the Personal Account of Nicholas Money Tunnel:

Mr. Steven Tunnel was strong & a large heavy set man with black hair & blue eyes and a good farmer. They were religious.

Notes for Keziah Money:

From the Personal Account of Nicholas Money Tunnel:

His mother was a slender red haired little woman, fair – with blue eyes, who could not keep up under such a burden of toil & care and was frail in health.

Marriage Notes for Stephen Tunnell and Keziah Money:

The account from Nicholas Money Tunnel says they had 10 children (1 girl and 9 boys):

The girl was the eldest one of the children. Her name was Nancy. The boys were named James, John, Luther, William, Nicholes Money, Wesley, Robert, Steven, and Perrie. (A couple of the boys, she has called by their middle names – perhaps that is what she had heard them called, as they were her great uncles. She also did not mention David; possibly because he died quite young and she would not have known of him). These boys all became ministers of the Gospel except Wesley and Nicholes – who were very religious, however, and good Church workers, and all ways held family prayer in their homes, allso reading a chapter from the Bible at bed time and at mornings – singing gospel himms.

Marriage Notes for William Tunnell and Ann Howard:

From Personal family account of Nicholas Money Tunnell:

Meanwhile, in England, William DeTunnelier accepted a job as tutor to a young lady, to teach her the French language. She was an only child of an English Lord named Howard, and her name was Lady Ann Howard. William DeTunnelier and Lady Ann Howard fell in love with each other. The girls father ordered him away and forbade them to marry. They married anyway, and William became a Methodist Minister.

Notes for Tomas Tonnelier:

By Barbara Ribling:

Dates and names of this family were provided by a French researcher. There is a 20 year difference between the date of Guillaume's christening and approximate birth date according to Armstrong. This leads me to suspect that maybe there are two different men being described. The French reseacher's info was provided by Mrs. Ruby Magers whose husband is a descendent of Stephen Tunnell, Jr.
